About 16.7km, including about 745m of net ascent and about 767m of net descent. The forecast called for 38C in Kyoto today, so I started walking at first first light, around 4:30am, so as to have at least the climb in cooler weather. Then at the end I went for a lovely swim in Lake Biwa, still wearing my pants and my shirt and my hat. They were so sweaty, they deserved a wash!

Arrival to the starting point by taxi, return by train.
