About 145km. After two weeks of inactivity and covid and covid-induced-inactivity, I wasn't at all sure I'd be able to complete this ride. But it went fine! The main challenges were the heat (does it ever end?), the fact that for a random reason I didn't sleep well on the night before (so I was sleep-tired more than muscle-tired), and the stupidity that I forgot to put sunscreen on a little patch on my neck.
